Path length distributions for a domain with one interface